

Clinical data

- Blood test data was analyzed using two way ANOVA including cluster (worst, middle, least), sex (female, male) and the interaction effect.
- After multi-test correction (BH, 1995)
 - none of the blood tests show significant difference for the clusters.
 - A few tests show significant difference for female and male, such as creatinine RBC.